

3 Ruptured discs in my neck...I was at a point where nothing worked... Until the right Chiropractor!

I had no movement in my neck, shoulders, back. I was diagnosed with 3-ruptured discs in my neck. I was at a point where I couldn't do anything. I was at the point where nothing worked. My left arm, shoulder was numb. I've had pinched nerves in my arms.

Then I came to see you.. I didn't want to go to another Chiropractor because the first Chiropractor just looked at the symptoms. And he adjusted my neck to the point it was worse and not better.

Talking to you before I came to see you made me feel more comfortable by talking to me and showing me what is going to happen instead of just treating it.

Over several visits with you, I am 100% better than I was.

It did take a few treatments to feel better. I can't describe the difference from where I was to where I am now. The pain I had before we started was the most pain I ever had in my life. I have had my back operated on 7 times for ruptured discs. Nothing has helped at all. By coming to you for a ruptured disk in my neck and not having the operation you have helped me more (my neck) than my back ever was helped with the operations.

It has lasted longer by you adjusting my neck than the operations did. I did take medications for my back before coming to see you. I haven't taken a pain pill besides aspirin since coming to see you. I do use a lot of ice on my neck.

I think you are more of a friend than a doctor. You do know what you are doing don't get me wrong; You are very professional about people. You want people to feel better more than you are worried about people coming to see you. The people who come to see you, you care about how they feel when they leave. And I respect that. That is what really made me take notice of you. You are more concerned about people's welfare than anything else and I really appreciate that.
